What is Musculoskeletal Therapy?

Body therapists usually focus on the soft tissues or the skeleton. Musculoskeletal Therapy is more holistic in that it is an integration of all of our mechanical parts, the bones, joints, ligaments, tendons, fascia and muscles. This ensures a much greater understanding of the problem and hence greater results.

The Academy is now offering a Certificate IV, a Diploma and an Advanced Diploma of Musculoskeletal Therapy (MST).

Neil Skilbeck is the founder of these unique MST techniques (often called Myopractic). During his presentation Neil will be explaining and demonstrating this cutting edge therapy.

Don't miss this chance to hear from and talk with Neil about these exciting new courses which will be offered in various cities in 2013.
